

Coming soon, your account will be protected with two-factor authentication

Feel even more secure about your banking experience

The security of your account is always a top priority at Emory Alliance Credit Union. That's why we will implement a new two-factor authentication feature for account access, ensuring your banking experience remains safe.

What does that mean? When you log in to your account, you will be prompted to enter a code. Simply enter the code sent to your device to restore access.
